Future Outlook

The economy is expected to grow at around 3.0% in 2019. The Future outlook on growth will depend on the execution of Government policy, and the recovery after the Easter Sunday Bombing.

The country will need to position itself better if it is to capture opportunities from any possible fallouts from Trade wars and uncertain tariffs. International commodity prices including crude oil remain volatile and a concern. Local weather conditions which were somewhat favorable, will have a significant impact on the growth performance.

Interest rates are expected to flatten out towards the end of the year depending on increased demand by the Government for the envisaged development projects and a Presidential election, which might see an increase in Government spending.

The Fund being a Money Market Fund is invested in a mix of Government securities and Corporate Debt within a one-year maturity period. The Managers will continue to monitor the interest rate environment and make changes to the investment profile, to fulfill the Fund objective of providing liquidity while maximizing returns for the investor.
