Future Outlook

Despite the setback due to the pandemic in 2020, the Sri Lankan economy regained and delivered gratifying results by recording a growth of 3.3% in 2021 owing to successful vaccination programme against the Covid-19 pandemic. However, the economy contracted by 1.6% in 1Q2022 due to local and global challenges as a consequence of policy instability on macro fundamentals coupled with political chaos.

The global growth is expected to slump in 2022 in the wake of supply chain disruptions, elevated inflation on account of volatile crude oil prices, geopolitical tensions as a consequence of Russia's invasion of Ukraine, increase in US Fed rate, lockdowns in China, compounding the damage from COVID-19 pandemic with the emergence of new variants and outbreak of monkeypox. This systematic risk would hammer the Sri Lankan economy already witnessing a feeble economic growth in 2022 amidst the exacerbated economic crisis in the country backed by accelerated inflation due to disruptions in power and supply chains, shortages of basic necessities, the volatile financial market, unfavorable balances in both trade and fiscal accounts, downgrading country's sovereign rating, looming debt repayments, contraction of foreign reserves, heavily depressed currency, heightened political crisis, social unrest, and aggravated losses in SOEs.

The current accelerated inflation would be expected to rocket in the short term and then, slow down in medium term with the executing of corrective measures to address the disruptions in supply side. The depreciation of Rupee against USD could continue till the economy attracts more foreign dollar inflows with an aim to build up healthy foreign reserve position, which mostly address the supply side disturbance and would help to cushion the inflationary pressure in the economy.

The rising market interest rates are expected to stabilize at a moderate level without discouraging the credit growth in the economy as it is crucial to enhance the economic activities in the long term. This would ease off the pressure on hyper-inflation and heavy depreciation of rupee against dollars.

At present, Sri Lanka has already commenced the process of negotiation to obtain the assistance from IMF in an effort to restore macroeconomic stability and debt sustainability which crucially includes the uninterrupted supply of essentials, reschedule the debt payments and boost the foreign reserves of the country with structural reforms to reinstate the sustainability in the economy while evading economic stagflation.

The Fund being a Gilt-Edge Fund is invested in a mix of Government securities. The Managers will continue to monitor the interest rate environment and make changes to the investment profile, to fulfill the Fund objective of providing liquidity while maximizing returns for the investor.
